

aviv_

Case Study

Aviv Group, a prominent player in the real estate investment realm, has made its mark since its establishment. With a keen eye for opportunities and a strategic approach, Aviv Group navigates the dynamic landscape of real estate ventures with finesse. Led by a team of seasoned professionals, the company specializes in identifying and capitalizing on lucrative investment prospects, spanning commercial, residential, and mixed-use properties.

Through meticulous research and astute decision-making, Aviv Group has built a reputation for delivering sustainable returns to its investors while contributing to the development and enhancement of communities.

Despite the inherent challenges of the real estate market, Aviv Group remains steadfast in its commitment to excellence, continually seeking innovative solutions to drive growth and success in its ventures.

Selected Mandate

Aviv is embarking on a transformative initiative to consolidate several distinct brands under its umbrella into a singular, innovative marketplace. This strategic endeavour aims to revolutionise the user experience, seamlessly guiding individuals from the initial stage of house hunting to the final step of managing household expenses. To spearhead this ambitious project, Aviv is seeking exceptional talent to join its esteemed Product team across Europe.

“Their professionalism and expertise shine through in every interaction”

Kevin Taylor, Talent Acquisition Lead

“

“Selected has been instrumental in building our dynamic team, consistently providing top-tier candidates who perfectly align with our company culture and requirements. Their professionalism and expertise shine through in every interaction, making them a trusted partner in our talent acquisition efforts. I highly recommend Selected to any organization seeking outstanding talent in Product and Tech. Their unwavering commitment to client satisfaction and exceptional results make them an indispensable recruitment partner.”

Outcome/ROI

Through our collaboration with Aviv, we successfully identified and recruited exceptional talent for their Product team across Europe. Our efforts have resulted in assembling a team of skilled professionals poised to spearhead Aviv's transformative initiative. By leveraging their expertise, Aviv is well-positioned to consolidate multiple brands into a cohesive marketplace, revolutionizing the user experience in the real estate sector. From streamlining house hunting to facilitating household expense management, our partnership has enabled Aviv to embark on its ambitious journey towards redefining the standards of excellence in the industry.

Peter Gerber,
Snr Director,
Product

“

“Steven and his team at Selected are unparalleled in their dedication to sourcing top-tier talent. Their commitment to excellence, coupled with a personalized approach, makes them an absolute pleasure to collaborate with.”

In my recent endeavors at Aviv, Steven and Selected played an instrumental role in helping me build a stellar team of Product Directors. Their industry expertise and unwavering professionalism set them apart in the competitive landscape of recruitment. Steven's assurance of respecting your time and priorities ensures a seamless collaboration, making him an invaluable asset in today's market.

I wholeheartedly recommend Steven Petty and Selected for all your recruitment needs.”

