

Case Study

OverIT, a trailblazer in the field of field service management technology, has been revolutionizing how businesses manage their operations since its inception. With a focus on leveraging cutting-edge software solutions, OverIT empowers organizations to streamline their field service processes, optimize resource allocation, and enhance customer satisfaction. Led by a dedicated team of innovators, the company's flagship product, Geocall, serves as a comprehensive platform for managing field service activities, from scheduling and dispatching to real-time monitoring and analytics. OverIT's commitment to pushing the boundaries of technology has earned it a reputation as a trusted partner for companies seeking to unlock the full potential of their field service operations. Despite the ever-evolving nature of the industry, OverIT remains at the forefront, continually refining its solutions to meet the evolving needs of its clients and stay ahead of the curve in the competitive landscape of field service management.

Selected Mandate

OverIT, originally established as a consultancy firm, excelled in its consulting endeavors. Recognizing the recurring challenges faced by their clients, they discerned an opportunity to develop Field Service Management software to alleviate these pains. Subsequently, they embarked on the journey of crafting this software solution. Following its creation, the next step was to establish proficient software sales, marketing and professional services teams in both Europe and the US to effectively market and distribute the product.

“Securing a recruitment partner capable of navigating the complexities of an enterprise software company like OverIT is a rare find, but Selected exceeded our expectations. Engaging with them during a period of rapid growth was instrumental to our success. Their proficiency across Sales, Account Management, and post-Delivery teams was evident as they collaborated closely with us to define requirements and swiftly identify top-tier talent. Their adeptness at understanding our needs and executing with precision streamlined our operations significantly. With their rigorous candidate qualification process and efficient sales process management, we could focus on deal-making with confidence, knowing we had a trusted partner who grasped the intricacies of our business. I highly commend Selected and anticipate future collaborations with Harry and their team.”

Outcome/ROI

We meticulously identified, screened, and recruited sales professionals spanning from Sales Development Representatives (SDRs) to Vice Presidents (VPs) of Sales, ensuring they possessed not only a strong background in software sales but also a keen understanding of the industry landscape. Additionally, we targeted presales experts proficient in effectively communicating technical concepts and providing valuable pre-sales support to potential clients. Our recruitment efforts extended to marketing professionals equipped with the skills necessary to enhance brand visibility, drive lead generation, and foster customer engagement in the competitive software market. Furthermore, we sourced experienced individuals for the professional services team, adept at implementing and supporting software solutions to ensure client satisfaction and success. By assembling a dynamic and versatile team across sales, presales, marketing, and professional services, we played a crucial role in laying the foundation for OverIT's strategic growth initiatives within the Field Service Management domain.
